

Assessment Frameworks

Understanding the role of assessment is a vital part of the learning journey. A strong assessment system allows teachers and leaders to track student progress, identify learning misconceptions and ensures amendments to future curriculum planning can be made.

There are many approaches to assessment. Having the knowledge and expertise to use a variety of assessment methods is an invaluable tool to support teaching and student progress.

We can offer a comprehensive range of CPD around the following areas;

- Developing a leadership approach to data and assessment
- Developing an effective data and marking policy
- Introducing a common assessment framework that measures attainment and progress
- Uses of formative and summative assessment methods to support teaching
- Delivering consistent application of assessment and marking – moderation and standardisation

Assessment Data Analysis

It is important to track, record and analyse assessment to inform practice. However, this process needs to be uncomplicated, easy to access and informative. This puts data into the hands of school staff, providing them with the insight they will need to make informed decisions around teaching, support and planning. We can support the following;

- Provide robust leadership attainment and progress data
- Offer advice on the use of the schools MIS system and other data analysis software
- Developing a bespoke data tracking system
- Using formative and summative data effectively
- Data analysis CPD for leaders, teachers and data managers
